Phone Power Wins 2013 Inc. Hire Power Award

WINNETKA, Calif., Oct. 25, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Phone Power today announced that the company has been recognized for doing its part to spark economic growth in the US with a 2013 Inc. Hire Power Award, which recognizes private companies that create American jobs. This year's award recipients will be honored on November 12 at a reception and awards ceremony sponsored by Inc. and Bank of America Merrill Lynch at the Marine's Memorial Club & Hotel in San Francisco.

The 2013 Inc. Hire Power Awards honor the nation's top job creators, and the November issue of Inc. Magazine will have a special feature on this year's top 25 job-creating private companies. Inc.com currently has an online special section that lists and provides details on all 2013 Hire Power winners, including Phone Power, which is featured in the telecommunications section.

"Phone Power is in hyper-growth mode because we deliver exceptional value and amazing customer service," said the company's chief executive officer, Jim Murphy. "When you give people a way to save money and get great service at an affordable price, it's possible to grow even in a challenging economy, and company growth leads to job creation. It's an honor to be recognized for that with an Inc. Hire Power Award."

Phone Power provides residential and small business service packages that provide unlimited calling and advanced calling features. The company also provides business and hosted PBX service packages to fit enterprise phone service needs. Phone Power's top-quality customer service, affordable prices and attractive product features make it a popular and reliable choice for thousands of customers in North America.
